SMARTY GIRL: DUBLIN SAVAGE

Gemmamedia, United States, 2012. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 201 x 124 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book. An autobiographical novel set in 1960s Ireland, this irresistible story follows the rise and fall of the O Feeney family, seen through the eyes of a precocious little girl. More savage than civilized, Noleen is a rare character from a Dublin long forgotten, where Nelson s Pillar still stands in O Connell Street?but not for long? and where untamed musicians gather in the O Feeneys kitchen to raise a jar and the roof. Noleen s father, a successful actor and scoundrel king of the city, does his best to destroy his family, while her mother tries to save it. Noleen schemes to make it through each Dublin day, cadging sweets and growing tough in the midst of chaos. In the end, however, nothing?not even a fierce girl s powerful imagination?can hold the family together and keep them, safe as geese in the sky, in their home on Tolka Row. Smarty Girl is a wild child s journey through a world alternately tender and brutal, humorous and heartbreaking, told in language as musical and vibrant as Dublin itself. Honor Molloy s mother Yvonne is an American theatre director who sailed to Ireland in 1953 to study in Trinity College. Her father John was a seventh generation Dubliner and a local legend for his work on stage, in films and on television. Dedicated to capturing and preserving the Dublin vernacular, they worked together for fifteen years producing plays, radio, television shows .and six children. The life they led together---and the reasons that life had to end---provides the inspiration for their Smarty Girl.
